RAILWAY COMPANY SUED.

Claim for Damages Filed by Judg-ment Creditors.

Otto C. Haarar, William F. Barker and

Louis Rosenberger late yesterday afternoon instituted proceedings in equity against the Capital Railway Company, the Washington Traction and Electric Comalleged in the bill that the three complainants were among those who were infured in an accident which occurred on one of the cars of the Capital Railway Company the 10th day of July, 1898, and that they have recovered judgments, respectively, in the sums of $4,500, $3,500 and $5,000 against the company. It is added that execution has been issued upon their judgments which has been returned by the marshal "not good." Therefore, the com-plainants explain, they filed the equity proplainants explain, they filed the equity proceedings as judgment creditors and on behalf of other creditors of the railway company as such others may intervene.

The complainants recite that of the 2,000 shares of the capital stock of the Capital Railway Company 980 are owned by the Washington Traction and Electric Company, the other twenty standing in the names of persons who constitute the directorship of the railway company; that the Washington Traction and Electric Company is the owner and controller by purchase of all the city railways of the District of Columbia, with the exception of the Capital Traction Company, and practically constitutes the Capital Railway Company.

tically constitutes the Capital Railway Company.

The complainants set forth that for the purpose of cutting out the complainants' judgments and excluding them from participation in the proceeds to be derived from the sale of the assets of the Capital Railway Company, the Washington Traction and Electric Company and the Capital Railway Company, while the owners of the bonds which the bill alleges had been retired and liquidated, directed the trustees under the first deed of trust to advertise and sell the property of the Capital Railand sell the property of the Capital Rail-way Company; that the trustees did proceed way Company; that the trustees did proceed to do so and sold the same to the defendant, James B. Lackey, who, the bill alleges, is the secretary of the Capital Railway Company, as also of the Washington Traction and Electric Company, and holds the property in trust for these corporations.

It is charged that the sale so made is fraudulent and void, and should be set aside. It is also further alleged that the railroad company had no authority under the law creating it to mortgage its franchise and that no title to the franchise passed under the sale made under the deed of trust. Attorneys Leon Tobriner, Wolf & Rosenberg and Irving Williamson appear for the complainants.

Did You Hear Commissioner Macfarland's Views as

Was a Partridge,

Both Dead Now:

62 WALL ST., NEW YORK. zation of a new school board. This pro vision, in brief, authorizes the Commis WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT, sioners of the District "to appoint seven persons, bona fide residents and taxpayers stitute a board of education. This provision of the bill takes effect July 1, the terms of the members of the board of education being seven years, "except that the terms of the persons first appointed shall terminate as follows: One each year, to be determined by lot among pointed shall terminate as follows: One each year, to be determined by lot among the seven members of the board first appointed." The compensation of the members of the board is $10 each for personal attendance at each meeting, but shall not exceed for any member $500 per annum. The board is given by the bill "complete jurisdiction over all administrative matters connected with the public schools of the District of Columbia, except that all expenditures of public funds for such school purposes shall be made and accounted for as now provided by law under the direction and control of the Commissioners of the District."

It is made the duty of the board of education to make all needful rules and regulations which may be proper for the government and control of the schools, and the board is required to annually report to the Commissioners the condition and operations of the schools, and the sanitary and structural condition of all buildings in use, as well as those in course of construction, with recommendations as respects needed changes, which reports shall be transmitted by the Commissioners to Congress.

The Board's Appointing Power.

The Board's Appointing Power.

The board is authorized to appoint one superintendent of public schools at $4,000 per annum, two assistant superintendents at $2,500 each, one secretary at $1,800, one clerk at $1,400, two clerks at $1,000 each, and a messenger at $720. One of the asand a messenger at $720. One of the assistant superintendents, under the direction of the superintendent, shall have charge of the colored schools, and the board is authorized to remove said officials at its pleasure. The board is also empowered to employ and remove all teachers, officers and other employes connected with the public schools not already mentioned, provided that the graduates of the normal schools shall have preference in all cases when appointments of teachers for the grade schools are made. To the board the superintendent is required to annually submit for its approval the course of studies and list of text-books and other apparatus to be used in the schools.

Since he assumed the duties of his office, not a day has passed that Commissioner Macfarland, who has immediate supervision of the public schools, has not received applications, recommendations or suggestions relative to the personnel of the board of education. These applications and suggestions and recommendations are represented by a great mass of letters, telegrams and other written matter, which he has filed away for future consideration. Then, too, not a day has passed that he has not received one or more delegations calling for the purpose of presenting the name of some citizen for appointment as a member of the board of-education, and particularly has this been true of the colored people, who seem to be unusually interested in the matter.

Having the schools under his immediate supervision, it is expected, of course, that Mr. Macfarland will take the initiative in the matter of nominating the seven mempoard of education. These applications and

Mr. Macfarland will take the initiative in the matter of nominating the seven members of the board, but so far as can be learned he has made no other promise than that every name presented to him shall receive due consideration, and that the very best persons obtainable shall be nominated. Some time between this and the first of July Mr. Macfarland will nominate the seven persons upon whom he will recommend shall be placed the responsibilities attaching to members of the board of education. It is known that he considers these responsibilities many and grave, and as the new board will be a working one in every sense of the word, working one in every sense of the word, and will be required to perform an immense amount of work between the first of July and the opening of the schools next September, it is understood Mr. Macnext September, it is understood Mr. Mac-farland will nominate no person as a mem-ber of it who is not prepared and willing to remain in town during that time and devote all of his or her energies to the work which will devolve upon every member of the board.

Should Re a Working Roard It is also believed that Mr. Macfarland is of the opinion that the board of education shall at all times be a working one, and it is said to be his purpose to nominate persons for members thereof who will be at liberty to perform the duties devolving at liberty to perform the duties devolving upon them at any and all hours of the day, so that the meetings shall not be restricted to evening or afternoon sessions entirely. Another opinion for which he is given credit is that the board shall not be divided up so as to represent or control different sections of the District, for it is said Mr. Macfarland believes that the board should be one broad enough to cover and labor for the whole District in all its transactions and thought. That is, the Commissioner will, it is believed by those who best know him, expect every member of the board to be willing to work hard for the best interests of the whole District, and he will in his selection of persons for membership in the board be dominated by one purpose, to name the very best men one purpose, to name the very best men and women obtainable for the positions, without regard to political or other less important reasons. No one, it is believed, will be appointed who holds any office under the general or District governments, for the reason that they would not be masters of their time, and no one to whose qualifications there exists the slightest doubt.

Several of the citizens' associations of the District have presented names of persons residing in their respective territories to the Commissioners for appointment as members of the board of education. No one has greater respect for these associations and their recommendations than has Mr. Macfarland. He believes every recommendation made by them should receive from the Commissioners the most careful and thoughtful consideration, for, being to a very large degree representative bodies. one purpose, to name the very best mer and women obtainable for the positions and thoughtful consideration, for, being to a very large degree representative bodies he holds, it is said, that they have been and will continue to be very helpful to the Commissioners.

Will Not Discriminate.

There are, however, a dozen or more of these citizens' associations in the District, and as there can be but seven members of the board of education it is said to be more than probable that Mr. Macfarland will find it impossible to favorably consider the recommendation of any of these organiza-tions in the matter for the simple reason that it would hardly be fair or just to do so in one or two instances and then be unable to do as much in respect to the oth-ers. Hence it is not believed that the Comers. Hence it is not believed that the Commissioner will nominate any person whose appointment has been requested or recommended by a citizens' association simply because that person is a member of the organization and would represent immediately the section of the city or District embraced within its territory. But, as above explained, Mr. Macfariand will, it is believed, nominate persons who will be, in his opinion, acceptable to the people of every section and who will represent the whole District.

Withdraws Plea of Not Guilty. James W. Redmiles, indicted for carnal knowledge, in connection with his recent elopement with the young daughter of the proprietress of the house where he boarded, on F street southwest, today withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty. He was committed to jail to await the further action of the court.

Subscription books now open in Mr. Armat's home city for the sale of 5,000 shares of treasury stock, par $20, at $12 a share, A PRICE THAT WILL NEVER again be offered. No other stock for sale. This money is to be used strictly for the further and rapid development of the company's monopoly established by the final decision of the Commissioner of Patents February 5, 1900, after four years of expensive litigation.

Those desiring to get in on this ground floor price should act promptly. The offer will be withdrawn without notice.

Address, with name and address, inclosing the amount it is desired to invest, to the Washington Branch Office of the company.

sorts, the moving picture business is a small gold mine to the company or individual who is properly equipped and operates intelli-gently, and this in the face of the competi-tion that has resulted from the unrestricted use of machines infringing our patents. Backed by our patents and the organization which we are now perfecting by securing the best talent that the moving picture business has produced, we have a monopoly that we think will show the largest net profits of any legitimate enterprise in which the public has ever been invited to invest.

In the city of New York alone there are twenty-seven unauthorized exhibitions now going on, from which the theaters are deriving large incomes, and for which they pay from one hundred to two hundred and fifty dollars per week each, and can well afford to pay more. Every one of these exhibitions is with out legal right, and is an infringement upor

It is our purpose to stop the unlawful use of these infringing machines and to substitute our machines at equal or higher rates.

It is not believed that legal steps will be required to make any intelligent theatrical manager substitute our machines for the unlawful infringing machines all of them are now using The user of an infringing machine is not only liable for all profits, but for three times the actual damages. There is no reason why the amusement enterprises of the country should not in every case much prefer to deal direct with the owners of the patents.

The moving picture projecting machines described above are but a part of our business.

We have several new machines coming within the scope and protection of our patents, but occupying a different field, that have never been made public or exploited. These machines are described in our prespectus and power.
